

Move it with Forbo.

There's a lot to do till sheet metal hits the road on its own wheels. Forbo Siegling worker belts get things moving.

And car assembly is no easy task. Our plastic, fabric-based or modular worker belts don't just convey every single component — but the fitters too. At up to four metres in width, they provide enough mobile working space — with continuous production guaranteed. Low weight and drag, combined with a long service life, make the application economical. Simply the better solution: Siegling Transilon and Siegling Prolink worker belts. Reliable and durable.
